To Whom So Ever It May Concern

Proprietary Article Certificate

This is to certify that the below Product:

Product Code	Product Description
VLFT10GEN	Valleylab FT10 Energy Platform

“Valleylab FORCETRIAD10 – FT10” is a proprietary product of Medtronic (Covidien llc), 15 Hampshire Street, Mansfield, MA 02048 USA.

1. The Product features built-in smart TissueFect™ tissue sensing technology in the Valleylab™ FT10 energy platform which examines device performance 434,000 times per second, monitoring tissue impedance and allowing effective and efficient energy delivery
2. The Product Features LigaSure™ tissue fusion, like LigaSure™ vessel sealing, uses the body's own collagen and elastin to create a permanent fusion zone. This technology can fuse vessels up to and including 7 mm, lymphatics, and tissue bundles, and has an average seal cycle of two to four seconds in most surgical situations.
3. The Product Features Adaptive REM™ which combines the feedback circuitry of hardware monitoring with an advanced software-controlled adaptation feature. The adaptive system still maintains the 5-135 ohms limits, but also creates a window of acceptable impedances based on contact conditions of the individual patient.

The above technology is patented technology by Covidien, The Patent Information is as below:

Product Brand	Product Type	Patent Information	Representative SKUs
Valleylab™ FT10	FT Series Energy Platform	U.S. Patents 7,972,328; 8,034,049; 8,685,016; D775,734	VLFT10GEN

The Product is manufactured only by Medtronic and no other Company/Manufacturer/Dealer are manufacturing the same product other than Medtronic. The Product is imported in India by India Medtronic Pvt. Ltd. Medtronic (Covidien LLC) is the sole manufacturer of the VALLEYLAB FT10 Energy Platform Generator which is a patented technology and they hold all the proprietary rights to sale of this equipment along with parts and service for these units. The Product design and specifications are property of Medtronic.
